ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Dyspepsia take Horford's Acid Phosphate. Relieves the continued sense of hunger, sick headache, nausea and sour stomach.

Patrick, a woman's shoe that's right. See the latest styles in high and low shoes at $2.50 and $4.00. Sold only by Frank A. Hill, 124 Main street.

The Auditorium

The management of the Auditorium, ever on the lookout for the comfort of its patrons, have installed a ventilating fan of the latest model. The exhausts from the fan, at the rear of the balcony, draws out the heated air, and besides keeping the air fresh and pure reduces the temperature over twenty degrees.

The motion pictures for the last three days of the week comprise as fine a series as ever placed on exhibition at one time. The feature reel, "The Survivors," is a beautiful colorized production, and presents a story of the cavaliers and roundheads of the days of 1632, when Charles I. was king, also showing the execution of this unhappy monarch. "The Survivors" is a happy monograph. The "Survivors" story and the "Survivors" story, a real story of the Cavalier and Roundhead of the days of 1632, when Charles I. was king, also showing the execution of this unhappy monarch.

The high class vaudeville being presented still attracts large and well satisfied crowds, who realize that they are seeing the best of the vaudeville world. Small, Sloan and Sheridan present a delightful little comedy entitled "The Machebeles," which is as class as anything in its line on the stage today.

Ricky W. Craig continues to uphold his reputation as an original comedian, and his phonograph dialogue is, to say the least, funny and out of the beaten path.
The Jolly Prices are the best colored team that has ever played here, doing their act on different lines from the average turn of this class, and earning the largest amount of legitimate money without any rough horseplay, but depending wholly on their merits.

"The coolest place in town" is what everyone says who has visited the Auditorium this week.

BREED THEATER.

"For Love's Sake," Feature Motion Picture.

For the balance of the week, Manager McNulty has secured for the pleasure of his patrons the excellent feature picture entitled "For Love's Sake," an exquisite comedy. It is the story of the love of two young village maidens for the same youth, and the daughter of the postmaster being the young man's choice the rival maiden sets about to use every means to occasion her downfall. She finally succeeds in having the postmaster turn his daughter from his house, and she is thrown upon the world and upon her own resources. She eventually becomes a great singer and her former lover hears of her fame and succeeds in locating her, only to begin his love-making over, but this time he is rewarded by her acceptance of his proposal, and they return to the old home and happiness. A long list of pictures are promised for this week, and the fine musical portion contains many new added numbers, that are sure to be most satisfactory.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY.

Don't Hurry the Legislators.

Don't hurry the Connecticut general assembly to final adjournment, gentlemen of the state press. Let it turn out a good story for the newspapers, and that is about all it is engaged in these fine summer days. If it goes along all summer and well into fall, so much the better. It will be a good object lesson for the citizens of this state. They will then get up on their hind legs, so to speak, to inquire in the name of all that is good and sensible what on earth this state legislature is good for, anyway. And out of this noise arising over the dullness and the deadness of the Connecticut general assembly may come some movement for reform. Perhaps, like the provisions found in some states, we may yet get a law on the statute books of the state fining every member of the general assembly so many dollars per day, if the legislature is kept in session after say, three months. Such a money penalty as that would put an end to the long-winded sessions and would soon drive the legislature back to the farms and the cities to engage in neglected industries.

Listen! Suppose the state of Connecticut should make a rule on the day of the opening of the general assembly, that no free railroad passes would be issued to the legislators, say after April 1, following the commencement of the legislative session. How many trips do you suppose the legislators would make to Hartford after the stipulated time?—New Haven Union.

Mean Swindling

One of the meanest forms of swindling that farmers and fruit growers have for years been subject to is that practiced by commission houses. So general has become the crookedness that it is not safe to ship produce to some cities if it is to be sold on commission. And every city has a considerable contingent of sharks engaged in robbing the producer under guise of legitimate business. The Rural New Yorker has long waged a valiant fight against these pirates, and now Everybody's Magazine has shown up the Chicago gang in a way that has caused them to take notice.—Bristol Press.

Acquired Style.

Mrs. Howard Gould cannot dress decently on less than $40,000 a year, she cannot wear the same gown twice at Falm Beach and she cannot wear any of the Palm Beach gowns in New York; she must make a complete change of clothing not less than three times a day, and she must spend at least four of her waking hours being arrayed by two maids. The time which must be devoted to modistes, manicures, masseuses, hair dressers and the like and the time necessary to carry on the business of settling their accounts is not specified, but anyway it is an awful price to pay for a little thing like $40,000 a year.

South America had newspapers as long ago as 1594.

PERSONS TALKED ABOUT

Consul General R. M. Hartman of Buenos Ayres reports that Spain & Co. are erecting a new grain elevator, whose intake capacity will be 40,000 tons per 24 hours, at Rosario, the second city in population in Argentina.

The trustees of Dartmouth college at a recent meeting elected Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, formerly head of the department of physics at Dartmouth, president of Dartmouth to succeed Dr. W. J. Tucker, who has resigned because of ill health.

Timothy Healy, in a recent debate of the new British budget, from the standpoint of its effect on Ireland, perpetrated a delightful bull. Said he: "We have to wear the shoe, and all we know is that the proof of the pudding is in the eating."

George W. Kirchwey, dean of the law school of Columbia university since 1901, has resigned the office in order to have more time for teaching and writing. He retains the Kent professorship in the law school. Prof. Harry A. Cushing will act as dean for the present.

W. P. Conner of McMinnville, Tenn., thinks he has found a place where he can sell liquor without violating the state prohibition law, which will come effective July 1. The spot is four miles from any schoolhouse, and it is reported that Conner has guarded against intrusion by educational institutions by leasing all the land within four miles.

The wealthy Philadelphia manufacturer, Joseph Fels, has agreed to duplicate every dollar, up to $250,000, raised by the single taxers in America and England for a propaganda fund. He is now in Great Britain and writes to friends in New York that the taxation of land values has passed the academic stage and is coming into the practical consideration of European statesmen and economists generally.

Princess Elizabeth, wife of the crown prince of Bavaria, has graduated in medicine and has founded a hospital for children in Brussels. Those who remember the Belgium building at the St. Louis world's fair will remember the facts that were given children in her name. Added to all her other accomplishments is that of playwriting. Her effort in that direction being so brilliant that theater managers are asking for the privilege of producing it.

Senators Want a Vacation.

"The call of the wild" or something similar, is going to settle the question of the adjournment of the legislature. Several important members of the upper house have frankly announced that if the assembly goes on after July 15 it will go on without them, for they are going to start on their summer outings. Really, the legislature might just as well be then as later. It might even better be earlier than that.—New Haven Register.

Our Finances.

The state assembly has already appropriated over six millions for various purposes and the story is only partially told. Luckily, we have some pretty careful and conscientious men on the appropriations committee who are struggling with the difficult problem of deciding what are the worthy and needful objects of state support. The increased expenditures indicated only emphasize the fact that Connecticut must, in the near future, provide some means of increasing her revenue for the running expenses.—Midtown Sun.

A solace for men, a comfort to women, and a joy to children, Williams' Root Beer.

MODERN FLOUR EXCELS

THAT OF YEARS AGO.

There has been an open discussion of late among millers which has produced an interesting in cities where flour milling is one of the chief industries. The idea was brought to the public by a quality as it was many years ago, when patent flour was first milled in Minneapolis. Most of the millers insist that modern flour is superior to any that was ever milled, while others, especially the old-timers, claim that wheat flour as manufactured by the Washburn-Crosby Co. years ago, was so good as to make improvement a difficult matter.

The Washburn-Crosby Co. has decided the question emphatically, and all through chance and circumstance has come out a winner by several shades of whiteness. It is explained by those who are familiar with the history of the company that 14 years ago a scheme was thought out for packing flour in cartons for domestic use.

The idea was thought to be so good that a large number of four-pound cartons were ordered manufactured and the Washburn-Crosby flour put up in that shape. But it was too great a departure from custom and the carton idea at that time was not thought to be practical. So the new scheme was abandoned.
